Master Teacher Spotlight

- Adam Parson -

Although Los Angeles is home, Adam Parson has traveled the world as a teacher, dancer & choreographer for many years. He has performed in videos with Prince and Monica, has been a dancer on television shows including “3rd Rock from the Sun”, has toured as one of the “Power Rangers”, was featured in many National Pepsi Commercials and was a dancer for Fame LA.

Adam looks forward to traveling again to Norway, Mexico City, Switzerland, Italy, Korea, Belgium, Germany, Tahiti, Hong Kong, the Netherlands, Australia & New Zealand to teach and choreograph. He has just returned from a Jazz Convention in Brazil sharing 10 days with 1000 adult dancers! His choreography has been seen many times on “So You Think You Can Dance” - Australia.

Adam is the Founder and Artistic Director of Commonality Dance Company. Since their opening debut in 2002, the Company has been winning rave reviews in Los Angeles and on tour abroad in cities such as Seoul, Mexico City, Naples and Stuttgart. We are thrilled to have Adam on the Dance Excellence faculty and as an adjudicator for International Performance Boards !
